

back yard farmer

MAKE + GROW + COOK + KEEP

Invitation To Contribute

Are you making, growing, cooking and keeping your way to back yard happiness? Do you want to share your stories, recipe's and photographs? We'd love to hear from you.

What we're after ...

🐾 A focus on the practical is preferred. Please include your top tips, advice, costs, brand names, contact details and extra resources such as web addresses.

🐾 Around 500 - 1000 words. Please send as a Word document with minimal formatting.

🐾 Good quality photographs are essential.

PHOTO TIPS

- We prefer digital: Your digital camera should be set on the highest resolution.
- Please don't compress, crop or adjust – we can take care of that. If you don't have a digital camera, perhaps a friend, neighbour or relative would be willing to help.
 - Images can be emailed as JPEGS (preferred) or burnt to disc.
 - Email ORIGINAL large file sizes – to ensure first-rate reproduction.
- We like some photographs to feature people – either in action or proudly posing with your functioning contraption, happy animal, delicious produce or beautiful garden. Please let us know the names of any people or pets.
- Brief captions for your photos are most helpful.

🐾 Please supply your postal address (we only publish your name, town and state).

🐾 We can never fully guaranty publication. Earth Garden Books reserves the right to edit text and images to suit our style.

🐾 If we use your material, we can offer five copies of the book and a $60 voucher for The Good Life Book Club after publication.

🐾 Submissions can made via email or on disc via the post.

We cannot run your story if it has been published or accepted elsewhere. Please contact us if this occurs.

The deadline for this book is 28th October.
Early submissions are welcome and encouraged.

Please contact me if you have any questions.

Fiona Tunnicliff EDITOR

Back Yard Farmer

PO Box 2, Trentham, Victoria, 3458, Australia.

Email: editorial@earthgarden.com.au

Web: www.thebackyardfarmer.com.au